Subject: unrelated news about my daughter Kate - SMILE!

Hi guys,

I just couldn't help sharing with you that Kate, our OARSWOMAN and high school senior, has returned from her first NCAA visit (Michigan State), and she has two more scheduled (U of Michigan and Washington State) and possibly two after that if she doesn't like any of the first three (Tennessee and Ohio) but after the VERY first visit she has come home with the offer of:

- ✓ full tuition
- ✓ full room and board in double occupancy residence
- ✓ books
- ✓ ancillary fees
- ✓ health care,

all for 5 years!

Omigod! We had no idea it would be like this. We have been very clear that unless it is the FULL ticket she goes to university in Canada. Needless to say, this has snapped me out of my usual fall sleeping sickness (I am a mammal, I get very sleepy in October) as I tossed and turned all last night in sheer excitement.

Just thought I would share that wonderful news with you. One can sure appreciate the financial burden that has been lifted, particularly as Kate is a twin and all the costs are double.

Cheers,

Rachel
